

Bid Factor Sheet

Contractors' excise tax is calculated on total gross receipts. Gross receipts are defined as the total amount received including, but not limited to, sales tax, contractors' excise tax, cost of materials, your labor and profit, owner-furnished material and any other expenses. Because the tax is included in your gross receipts, the department has developed a factor of 2.041% that can be used to calculate excise tax due when preparing a bid or bill for your customer. This factor allows you to recover the excise tax you will owe.

Note: The factor 2.041% is used to prepare a bid or bill, however, a straight 2% rate is used when calculating the excise tax on your return.

Example 1: Prime contractor provides all material and labor. Contractor owes excise tax on their total receipts.

$1,060.00	Material (sales tax was paid)
+ 1,000.00	Labor
$2,060.00	Total
x 2.041	Bid Factor

$2,102.04	Amount of Bill or Bid

Example 2: The owner furnishes material. The contractor provides the labor. Contractor owes excise tax on their receipts plus the cost of the owner furnished material.

The contractor owes use tax on the material and will owe excise tax on their receipts plus the owner furnished material.

$1,000.00	Cost of owner furnished materials
$60.00	Use tax due on material (4% state + 2% municipal use tax)

Contractors' excise tax is calculated on total gross receipts. Gross receipts are defined as the total amount received including, but not limited to, sales tax, contractors' excise tax, cost of materials, your labor and profit, owner-furnished materials and any other expenses. Because the tax is included in your gross receipts, the department has developed a factor of 2.041% that can be used to calculate excise tax due when preparing a bid or invoice for your customer. This factor allows you to recover the excise tax you will owe.

The example below demonstrates how to use the bid factor. You can also enter your own figures and the form will calculate the appropriate amount of contractors' excise tax to include in your bid or invoice based on the information you entered.

Important: If no sales tax was paid on the materials or a rate less than would be due in South Dakota was paid, the contractor must report the value of the materials on line 6 of the contractors' excise tax return and submit use tax on that amount. This applies to contractor-provided materials and owner-furnished materials supplied by exempt qualified utility and government entities.
